THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L., SR.

Well, just supposing Secretary of State George Marshall did know that Communists in Columbia were planning a bloody demonstration to discredit the Pan-American conclave at Bogota. What should the former head of this country's armed services have done about it?

To our way of thinking he did exactly the right thing. He went ahead with his plans and those of his aides, as though there would be nothing but the usual routine, nothing to mar the deliberations of the American delegates. The fact that the demonstrations turned out to be more far reaching and destructive, both as regards life and property, than had been expected, does not alter the picture.

Undoubtedly it will give the representatives of this country an argument to advocate a universal enactement by the Latin American states of laws which will make it more difficult for Communists to put on a show such as they did in Bogota. For instance, we anticipate that the Chilean delegation will be set for repressive measures of a drastic kind. For Chile has long had a considerable number of Communists, some of whom were admitted to the government only a few years ago.

Significant in the Bogota uprising was the disappearance of the police following the assassination of Jorge Gaitan, a liberal leader. The police very patently must have been sympathetic fellow travelers, or it may be, Communists.

As for such hysterical statements as those of Rear Admiral R. H. Hillenkloetter that this could happen in this country, is probably bosh. Representative Donald Jackson of California, who flew up from Bogota to report his personal experience also sounds a bit overwrought in his statement "that what happenend in Bogota, can and will happen in Chicago, New York and San Francisco, unless we who remain free and unfettered gird ourselves for an all-out battle with the enemy".

As has been pointed out by calmer heads, the Communists of this country should be obliged to declare themselves as such. Then when they are known they would be under the watchful eyes of all patriotic citizens. And, we are very certain they should not be permitted to organize as a political party, when, as has just been demonstrated in Bogota, they expect and conspire to take over the government by force.

Every government has a right to defend itself against armed revolution, and it is the duty of government to do so. It seems to us the best way to deal with Communism is to force its members into the open, where they may be known and judged for what they are. The Taft-Hartley Act forces labor leaders, who wish to avail themselves of its provisions to declare their politics. Bit by bit the Communists in this country are being crowded into an unhealthy corner.

Henry Wallace we believe is doing the country a service. He is not, so far as anybody knows, a Communist, but in every state where his Independent Progressive Party filed its petition for a place on the ballot, the signatures are being scrutinized. Whether Wallace knows it or not, his followers are marked with the stigma of radicalism. His whole argument is for the appeasement of Russia. And this country is through with appeasement. Wallace rallies the appeasers.

EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINS

GRASS VALLEY: Aurora Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, last Monday night entertained Job's Daughters and members of the DeMolay chapter at a potluck dinner in the Masonic Temple here. Frances Sleep was chairman of arrangements.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Two of the primary factors which differentiate a democracy for the totalitarian states are the bill of rights and the secret ballot—the right to vote according to individual conscience wihout anyone knowing how we voted.

This sacred privilege enables the people to control the government. In states where this right is abused or non-existent, the state soon controls the people.

And since, in these cases, the state is controlled by a small and usually power-mad clique, the people lose all of their rights, are soon the cringing slaves of the governing organization.

In our nation, founded on freedom, even those who take their orders from foreign totalitarian states are privileged to vote. Under orders, they do so, 100 per cent.

Therefore, those of us who love democracy, and who realize that the intelligent exercise of the right to the secret ballot is its cornerstone, now more than ever must utilize this basic tool for governing ourselves.

April 22nd is the last day to register for the primary election for county, state and federal office.

Advance democracy by registering and voting!

CORONER NABBED FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

GRASS VALLEY: Coroner Alvah Hooper was cited for drunken driving Saturday morning following an accident at Bennett and Bank Street when he turned too sharply and hung his front wheels over the sidewalk into City Square.

City police investigated the accident and a tow car was called to take Hooper's car into a garage for repairs. Hooper was uninjured.

TYRELL HEADS NEW BOND DRIVE

GRASS VALLEY: James C. Tyrrell, chairman of the Nevada County committee for the U. S. Treasury Department's Savings Bonds sales, during the eight war loan drives, has called on the members to resume the old functions.

Plans are made for the communities to participate in a new bond selling campaign. Tyrrell hopes that there will be new members interested in the work of federal security selling, especially young veterans who helped to win the war and wish to make certain the country is kept strong and at peace.

Twenty-two Stitches Needed When Car Window Hits Man

NEVADA CITY: Dorsey Woodruff, 35, sawmill worker of North San Juan, driving home early Sunday morning was blinded by approaching car lights and drove into a ditch on the Downieville Highway. He got a garage truck to pull him out and while looking out the door to guide the car, the door slammed shut, forcing his head through the glass. His forehead was badly cut and there was a long slash across his nose. The physician, Dr. B. W. Hummelt, used 22 stitches to close his wounds.

SUDDEN FIRE DESTROYS HOME ON SACRAMENTO STREET

NEVADA CITY: A sudden blaze resulted in a $2,000 loss in damage to the home of William Harbour, 205 Sacramento Street yesterday afternoon.

Germaine Marsh, 12, reported the fire 4:25 P. M.

Mrs. Harbour was resting in the living room, while the kitchen and roof blazed, when the Marsh Girl and Freda Barbour, 12, burst into the house and told her of the flames.

The fire department responded immediately and, after brief difficulty in connecting hoses, extinguished the blaze. The unused second story of the house was demolished, as well as most of the roof. Considerable damage was suffered by first floor rooms as well, although the frame of the house remained intact.

The personal belongings of the family, including furniture, were rescued by volunteers, including a large number of students from Nevada City High School, a block away.

The house was formerly the home of Dr. Stewart ,well-known veterinary.

FOREST SERVICE GIVES VIEW ON CO-OPERATIVE SUSTAINED YIELD

NEVADA CITY: A thorough explanation of Forest Services view of the "Cooperative Sustained Yield" law was given at yesterday's regular weekly-luncheon meeting of the Nevada City Rotary Club by William Swingler, assistant Regional Forester of the U. S. Forest Service, San Francisco.

"The keynote of the law is Stabilization," Swingler said, "stabilization of communities, taxable forest wealth, employment, stream flow and all results of good forestry."

Swingler was thorough in his remarks in explanation of the law which is now under fire in Nevada County where some of the lumbermen are already organized against it.

Law Explained

The law, Senate Bill Number 273, passed by Congress during the war, authorizes, according to the speaker, the Secretaries of Agriculture and Interior to establish two types of sustained yield units—"Cooperative" and "Federal". This authority has been delegated to the Chief of the U. S. Forest Service.

In "Cooperative Units" a landowner or a group of landowners agree to operate their land in the same manner that the Public lands are managed in order to sustain production thereon. The Forest Service in turn agrees to include in the unit public lands intermingled or adjacent thereto. When the "Cooperative Unit" has been approved by the Chief of the Forest Service, timber on these public lands is sold to the operator at not less than the appraised rates on a non-competive basis. Such Co-operative Unit agreements cover a designated period of time, usually 50 years.

"Federal Sustained Yield Units" may be established under this law when it is necessary to sustain the life of a community which is dependent on the timber in question. Such units do not involve private land as they consist of about 90% of public lands. Under such a setup timber is advertised for competitive bidding, but it must be manufactured in the community involved. There is only one "Federal Unit" in the one in New Mexico involving a United States and that is a small cut of nearly 1-½ million board feet a year.

Woodleaf Not Yet Approved

Swingler went on to say that there are no "Cooperative" units as yet in California. Under this law a landowner or a group of landowners can either contact the Forest Service or vice versa if it is believed that the area would qualify. The landowner must own at least 20% of the timber and at least 30% of the growing capacity of the area. There must be sufficient timber involved to make it worth while and there must be a community to be stablized. When these conditions are met the Chief of the Forest Services gives clearance to negotiate the matter. Public Hearings are then called to help the Chief decide if the unit in question is in the interest of the Public. Swingler stated that as far as the Woodleaf Unit was concerned no decision has been reached and the case in now on the desk of the Chief of the U. S. Forest Service.

"There are many problems involved in administration of the law," Swingler continued. "It is most difficult to determine the best qualified lumber operator or owner—that final decision is made by the Chief." "Another problem the Forest Service faces is when to notify the general public that such a Cooperative Sustained Yield Unit is being negoiated." "It is a new law and many such problems will have to be ironed out as we go along."

Swingler stated that the "law does create a minor monopoly," but pointed out that so long as public interests are protected by public agencies this is not a serious problem. Monopolies are now accepted in many forms of industries in the nation. He cited telephone, power, water and railroads, which are in effect monopolies.

The speaker stated that many sawmills throughout the nation will have to go out of business regardless of this law. In any area where mills are cutting 100 million feet of timber each year and the land is grawing only 20 to 30 million feet a year the sawmills will cut themselves out of business. When that has been done no logging will be possible until the young trees grow up and this may take from 20 to 50 years. During that period the communities and industry will suffer. The Sustained Yield Law was enacted to encourage continuous production on the private lands to prevent this from happening. But it means a reduction in the amount of timber being cut now and some lumbermen will be affected.

CRAMPTON'S GRAND THEFT CHARGES DROPPED

NEVADA CITY: The complaint against Lonnie Goss and Mrs. Evelyn Engell, charged with grand theft was dismissed Saturday on motion of District Attorney Vernon Stoll when it came up for preliminary hearing in the court of Justice of the Peace George Gildersleeve.

This action was taken with the consent of the complaining witness, Frank A. Crampton, Bureau of Reclamation official, who maintains a home here while working in Sacramento. He complained that the two defendants had taken from his premises certain household items and books.

HALLOCK, INGALLS SHOW SIGHTS TO PACIFIC STUDENTS

GRASS VALLEY: Eighty students from the College of the Pacific arrived this morning from Stockton in the first of the historical tours planned by that institution. Elmer Stevens, of the Grass Valley High School faculty, aided by George Hallock and Eugene Ingalls, took the students for a tour of historical monuments and markers in Grass Valley before luncheon.

After luncheon the students toured Nevada City. The ladies of the Methodist Church served the young people a pasty luncheon in Wesley Hall. During luncheon Dr. Rockwell Hunt of the College of the Pacific addressed the students. H P. Davis of Nevada City discussed the ancient river channels of this region and their historical significance.

THE - Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

I notice that the miners now, instead of mining alone, or with a single partner, as was generally the rule at first, have got to forming companies of half a dozen or a dozen men and working their claims more systematically and extensively. Ounce diggings are not as easily found as they were a year or two ago and the creeks, gulches, and shallow placers are pretty well worked out. There are a lot of deep diggings, mostly operated by means of shafts, and some of these are down as much as one hundred and fifty feet.

On coyote and Manzanita Hills they have rigged up whims, and hoist the dirt by horsepower, and at Red Dog and its vicinity they have built water wheels, which they use both to pump and raise the gravel. There is a lot of improvement in mining methods since we first began and I suppose there will be a lot more before the gold is all taken out of the ground.

CHAPTER XXIII.

MAY 2, 1852.—We got our sluice boxes back in the creek, finishing yesterday, and John Dunn and three of his partners will start in tomorrow morning. The are going to adopt the same plan that we tried, using as big a head of water as the boxes will carry, and ground-sluice all of the gravel through with as little handling as possible. The bed-rock will have to be creviced and cleaned by hand. If it pays they will make the same proposition to Platt and Dixon. They have enough ground of ours to keep them busy all summer. Dunn and his crowd are taking up all the vacant ground on Brush Creek and will work it the same way. It is a pity we did not know enough two years ago to wash the ground through sluices, instead of rocking it. We could have cleaned up a fortune in a month. We thought when the Long Tom came in, that it would never be improved upon. Now one rarely sees either rocker or Tom except in dry gulches and ravines where water is scarce.

I was over on Gopher Point a short time ago. The miners are having lots of trouble getting gold out of the cement. They run some of it through sluices, but the water has but little effect on it, and half of it goes into the tailrace without breaking up. The richest of it they spread out on the bare bed-rock and let it weather slack, and then pound it up with sledge hammers. In spite of all this they are making money. Over on the other side of the river, at Humbug, they have struck

VETERANS GROUP SUPPORTS WW II ROCKET SHIP SKIPPER

NEVADA CITY: The Veterans of Foreign Wars last night endorsed Harley M. Leete, Jr. for County Supervisor. Leete, who commanded a 1,000 rocket assault barge which battered German forces in the Normandy and Southern France D-Day landings was introduced by Past Commander William Mullis.

Commander of Banner Mountain Post No. 2655 Harleth Brock presided at the meeting.

The group was unanimous in endorsement of Leete, who spoke briefly, saying that if elected he would serve veteran's interests with the natural enthusiasm of one to whom those interests were personal.

The meeting saw a spirited discussion of local veteran's service problems with Donald Paine, Commander Brock, and Junior Commander Olaf Bjornstal leading the discussion. Others who added pertinent comment were Bob Allene and Rudy Plagemann.

The new officers conducted the ritual and meeting with excellent decorum. Plans were discussed for the administration of Buddy Poppy Day, and for a dance to be held in May.

WASHINGTON NOTES

By Congressman Clair Engle

POWER—HOW AND WHERE

There has been a great deal of finger pointing in California recently in connection with the current power shortage. It is perfectly apparent that the P. G. & E. failed to anticipate the power requirements of California. The statement by Black, P. G. & E. President, that there is no power shortage, has been none, and will be none, made in 1946 before the Appropriations Committee will not be soon forgotten. P. G. & E. opposition to the development and distribution of public power has slowed appropriations for the power features of the Central Valley project.

The people in California want to know when and how they are going to get some more power. I appeared before the Appropriations Committee this week and made three specific recommendations:

First, that we unshackle power development in California by giving adaquate funds for the Bureau to proceed and to free those funds from the hampering restrictions which have prevented their efficient use.

Secondly, (and this is perhaps the most important and the recommendation which will give us the earliest possible relief), I recommend the immediate construction of transmission lines to bring the power now being wasted in the Bonneville System to California. The power now being wasted there amounts to nearly 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hours per year. That is more power than will be produced at Shasta and Keswick Dams when the power units are completed and in full operation. These transmission lines would cost less than $15,000,000 and would give California additional power equivalent to another Shasta and another Keswick Dam. I stress the fact that this is waste power—not power which is being used by the people in the Bonneville System. Historical studies of the Bonneville System prove that this energy waste exists now and will always continue. The reason is that the Bonneville peak load occurs at the time of the minimum run-off of the Columbia River, and therefore at the time when the minimum amount of power can be produced. When the heavy run-off occurs the power is wasted because there isn't the demand at that time. Power demand is based on what is called "firm" power. Obviously industry is not going to contract for power from Bonneville when it is known that power will be cut off during the period of peak demand and minimum production of power. In other words, the limit on the sale of firm industrial power in the Bonneville System is the firm power which can be produced during the period of minimum run-of and unfortunately that happens to coincide with the months of peak demand. Consequently, waste power is inherent in the Bonneville System. My proposal is that this 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of waste power can be taken over transmission lines to California. During the time of its use we can cut-off the operation of our hydro plants and hold the water back of our reservoirs to meet our peak demand periods. And we can also take our steam power plants off the line, which now produce nearly 50% of the power used in California. The saving on fuel oil alone by this system (steam plants are operated by oil) will be something like $6,000,000 a year. We can thus save $6,000,000 a year worth of a natural resource (oil) and with the saving pay for these lines in something like two years. In addition, this is the only method of quickly meeting the California power shortage because these transmission lines, if started immediately, could be built in two years. I hope this recommendation will be given serious consideration by the people in California and by the appropriate committee of Congress. It has full Bureau support and is backed by their experts.

Third and last, I recommend the fastest possible construction of the Folsom Dam Project and others like it. My bill authorizing the power and irrigation features of the Folsom Dam Project is now proceeding through the Congress, and the Appropriations Committee of the House, and the Appropriations Subcommittee of the Senate have already allowed $1,000,000 to start construction of the dam.

These three recommendations, if pressed aggressively, will in my opinion do the maximum toward bringing an early end to our power shortage.

STATE DEPT. PREPARES FOR FIRE SEASON

NEVADA CITY: The fire season for the State Division of Forestry opened officially April 15th and in preparation for it, Louis Moran and James Hayes, experienced fire fighters and administrators have been assigned to the state division's headquarters just outside this city.

Moran is coming from Sacramento, where he has had several years experience in such work and Hayes from El Dorado County where he has had training in extinguishing fires on state and private lands.

Permits are now required for all outdoor fires.

T. B. ASSOCIATION TO GET MOBILE X-RAY UNIT HERE

GRASS VALLEY: Officers and directors of the Nevada County Tuberculosis Association meeting in the James S. Hennessy School made tentative arrangements for the services of a mobile X-ray unit during the first week of Oct.

The group decided to hold the annual dinner meeting in September. A nominating committee consisting of Judge George L. Jones, Miss Bernice Glasson and Mrs. Marjorie Matteson was appointed to select officers and directors for 1948-49 term.

A total of 1772 X-rays were taken, it was reported, of Nevada County residents during last year's trip of the mobile unit.

Last Rites For Stephen A. Little

Little was born in Forest Springs 82 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Little, pioneer settlers of than area. He followed mining in Grass Valley and in Utah during his active years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Little, sons, George H., and Stephen A. Little, both of Grass Valley, a daughter, Mrs. Pauline L. Patterson, and grandsons Robert J. and Paul H. Patterson.

THUGS MAKE FAST $42 IN HOTEL RAID

NEVADA CITY: A couple of tricky robbers made a fast $42 for themselves at 4 A. M. Monday when, on a neat but dirty double play, they distracted the attention of Night Clerk Robert Allene and made off with all the ready cash from the National's till that they could lay their hands on.

As Allene sat at the desk, making out a report on his shift as night manager, he heard a terrific crash on the stairs above.

One of the footpads had thrown a small white table from the top floor down the stairs. The table rolled all the way down the flight, lodging with a bang against the door of Hotel Manager LeFebvre.

As Allene ran to see what caused the noise, an unseen accomplice entered the lobby, scooped up $42 in greenbacks, and fortunately overlooked a bag of money containing $120.

A full-scale police investigation is under way with fingerprints being checked against criminal records.

People are prone to pooh-poon Communist danger in the U. S. with the argument that regular party members only number 100,000 or less than 1 per cent of our total population. In the World today there are seven Communist dominated countries— Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Bulgaria. Although the total population of these countries is 264,500,000, Party members only number 10,000,000.

Chamber Sells Tickets To Placer Barbecue

AUBURN: At the Placer Sportsmen's Association's Annual Barbecue on Dry Creek Road—May 9th, the Auburn Archers Association will give an archery demonstration along with the regularly scheduled competitions.

The archers will compare the penetration of their equipment with that of the Government's 30-06 rifle, which promises to be an interesting and surprising event to the spectators.

Short range competition, both at stationary and moving targets, is planned by the group.

Association members, at any time during the day, will endeavor to answer questions pertaining to the various phases of the sport.

Tickets to the barbecue are available now for $1.00 at the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce.

A documentery training film showing how the Unification Act promotes harmony among the three military services is long overdue because of script difficulties. The first draft prepared by the Army was discarded when the Marine Corps howled that it was unfair to the Navy and left the Marines out altogether. The Marine Corps' version joined the Army's in the wastebasket because the Admirals claimed it made the Navy look like an auxiliary service. A third atempt is now being made—this time by the Navy—to show how harmony reigns.

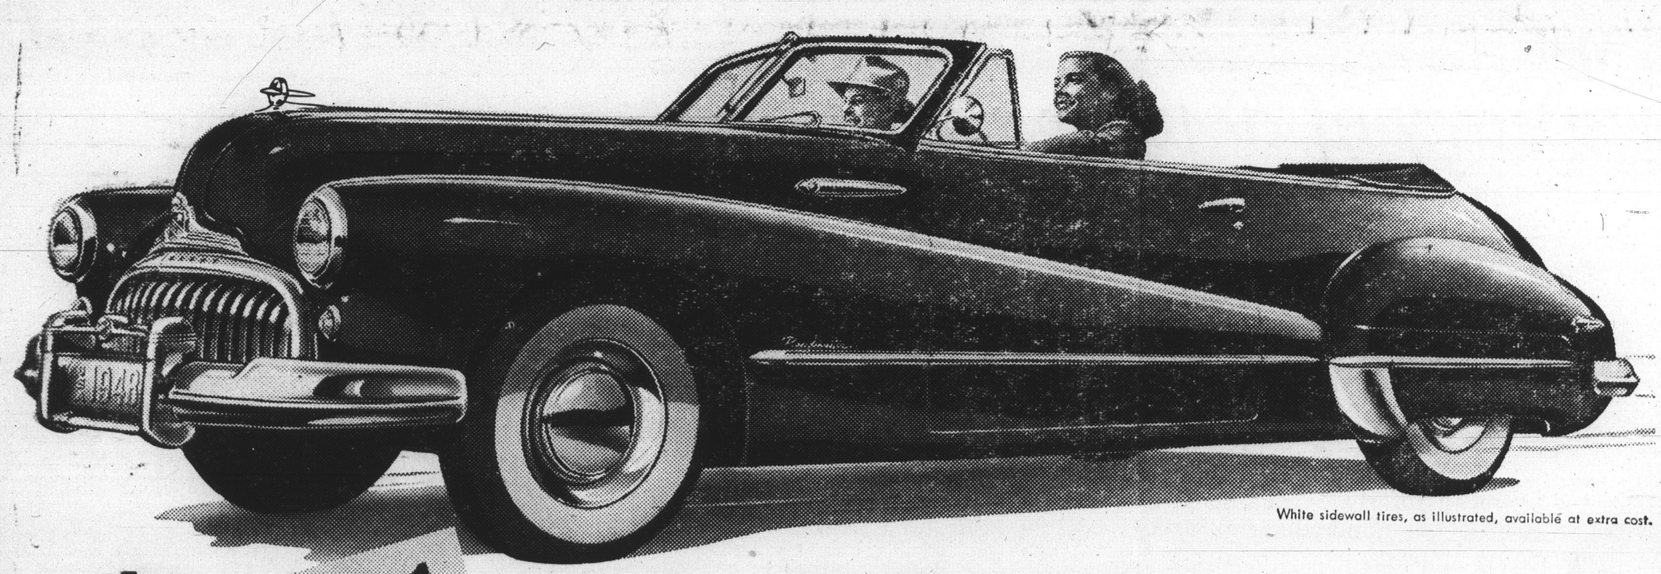
March of Time No. 8



It's NO. 1 on the "It" Parade

It's much the same way with cars as with people.

Some "have it" — some don't.

Some you go for, all out — without quite being able to lay a finger on why. And those — well, they usually become your firmest friends.

What is it that makes so many good folks say this trim honey's "got it"? Good looks? One has to admit it's nice to ride in a car that is unmistakably itself and not just a slightly modified version of something else.

Size, weight? Well, the polls tell us it's a pretty important factor since, if you like an automobile that does things, there just is no substitute for brawn and solid substance.

Power? Naturally. You can't sit long behind this big Fireball straight-eight without falling for it plenty hard.

Handling? Ride? Room? They all have their avid fans among Buick owners. Especially now with a completely new kind of engine mounting ironing out vibration build-up as never before, and in this Convertible model, with automatic top, door-window and front-seat adjustment.

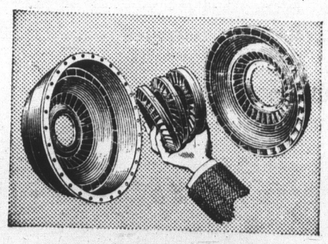
Is it the wonderful new Dynaflow Drive* that's causing so much talk?

In ROADMASTER models that is certainly a big factor. You'll never know how silky smooth a drive can be — what fluent new ease there is to all your going — till you drive the car where liquid replaces both the clutch and first, second and high gears.

But as nearly as we can find out — and we talk to a lot of people — it isn't any one thing that puts Buick at the top of the "it" parade. It's the over-all richness of this honey in all the things you've dreamed of finding wrapped in an automobile.

Ask any friend who drives a Buick — then see your dealer and get a firm order in, with or without a car to trade.

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays



WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

BUICK alone has all these features
★ DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional, Roadmaster Series)
★ TAPER-THRU STYLING ★ FLEX-FIT OIL RINGS
★ VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE ★ SAFETY-RIDE RIMS

Yerba Buena became San Francisco by official proclamation of Washington Bartlett, first American alcalde, in 1847.

some good diggings and quite a large mining camp has sprung up there. It is a loose quartz gravel, easily washed, and they say that there are immense beds of it covering three or four miles up and down the ridge. It doesn't all pay; in fact, there are only a few spots that are rich enough to work, but there is a little gold through it all. If there was only some way to wash big quantities of it cheaply, there is lots of gold to be taken out.

(NOTE.—Jackson was speculating on the availability of gravel deposits that a few years afterward, when hydraulicking came into vogue, proved to be the most valuable hydraulic mines in the world, as the subsequent operations at North Bloomfield, Malakoff, Columbia Hill, Badger Hill, etc., demonstrated. Jackson and his Pard might have been tempted to a longer stay in the foothills had they had a glimmering of the possibilities.)

Marie and I have paid a visit to Selby Flat, but I think we will avoid that place in the future. The boys treated us nicely and as respectful as could be; but the women—they are a lot of cats. There is not one of them that can hold a candle to Marie for good looks; and as for reputation, well, the most of them are good women, but there were a few who sneered behind our backs and were inclined to be very uppish, and those were the ones who had no reputation to speak of. All because she had dealt a gambling game and that is all they can say against her. I was inclined to give them a piece of my mind, but Marie laughed at it and said: "You foolish boy, never quarrel wiz a woman. You cannot fight wiz her and her tongue is too much for you." Of course, she is right; but it is this sort of thing that makes me want to get away from here. We have jolly times at the cabin, however. She always brings over some dainty to eat from the hotel or stores.

NEWS FROM THE RIDGE

BY ALICE HILL

Mrs. Gus Buddle and husband of Oakland spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Atchinson.

The North San Juan Farm Center met Friday night at Wood's Hall. Following the meeting music for dancing was furnished by Waid Oden and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stuart. Cake and coffee was served.

Gordon Woods has recovered enough to be moved to friends in Grass Valley from the Community Hospital.

Robert Rice of Berkeley has returned to school after spending a week with his mother, Mrs. Art Wright.

Three neighborhood couples, Mr. and Mrs. Wright Colman, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hammer and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ellsworth surprised Waid Oden on his birthday last week, each bringing a birthday cake and each not knowing the others had the same idea. An evening of fun was enjoyed at the Odens with the surprisers being surprised as well as Waid.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmour Sage of Grass Valley, formerly of the Sage Ranch near North San Juan, were visitors at the Earl Wolfe's.

At a school assembly at the Nevada City High School, Ed Peters was congratulated on his 11 years of service driving the school bus from North San Juan to Nevada City without accident. Mr. Penrose, President of the School Board, presented him with a certificate of merit and a pen-knife.

Mrs. Hattie Bone gave a birthday dinner in honor of her nephew Taylor Reed of Tracy. Those present were his mother, Mrs. Lionel Reed, and Mrs. Jane Taylor, also of Tracy, Mrs. Abbie King of Santa Barbara, girlhood friend of Mrs. Bone's whom she hadn't seen in 34 years, and Mr. and Mrs. Waid Oden of this village.

Mrs. Joan Martin and baby daughter have returned to Capitola, near Santa Cruz, after a weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. James Kemp. Mr. Kemp has joined th Army and is stationed at Fort Ord.

Mrs. Martha Ellsworth, president of the North San Juan P. T. A., attended the P. T. A. meeting last Friday at Camptonville.

Harry Wright of Washington is now living with his father, Art Wright, of this village.

Though the Nugget and Union have carried articles about the P. T. A. Amateur Show Saturday night at Twamley Hall, I'd like to say something, too. No affair held in this town in the 4 years I have lived here, has seen such a gathering of North San Juanites, neighbors from the whole length of the Ridge, and from Camptonville, Nevada City and Grass Valley. The hall was filled to capacity. We are still talking about it and hoping the P. T. A. will conttinue similar programs each year or oftener. I wish I had could mention everyone who took part for they all did so splendidly. I had charge of the Fashion Show, so would like to publicly thank the stores who so generously assisted us by providing us with the latest styles. First J. C. Penney's and the Conway Dress Shop of Grass Valley, and Risley's Ralston's The Specialty Store and the Style Shop of Nevada City. Those who didn't attend certainly missed a wonderful evening of entertainment.

Week-end guests at the Charles Hamman's were relatives from Gridley, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hepworth and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Baker and son of Nevada City and Red's father, Steve Hamman of Nevada City.

The Chamber of Commerce of North San Juan, Camptonville and vicinity held its monthly meeting Thursday night at Camptonville at the St. Francis Hotel. A good crowd was present from North San Juan besides the local members, in spite of the rain.

Governor Leland Stanford, noted as a horse breeder, paid $25,000 for "General Benton."

SHOOTING SCRAPE ENDS IN $15 FINE

NEVADA CITY: Stephen Fairchild appeared before Justice of the Peace George Gildersleeve Thursday afternoon and pleaded guilty to being drunk in a public place. He paid a fine of $15.

To a second complaint, charging him with disturbing the peace, he pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial.

Robert Bridges, another North San Juan resident, involved in the shooting affray of Monday in North San Juan, is to appear this week.

The sheriff's office states that both men were discharging firearms, in the general direction of each other. Bridges, the sheriff states, fired one shot at Fairchild's car which passed through it, and into the Valley Springs resort, burying itself in a chair leg.

Bridges, following a beating given him by Fairchild, was brought to the county hispital. He was released Wednesday on his own recognizance.

A message to the people of California about the new Federal Income Tax reduction

The income tax reduction just passed by Congress will add extra dollars to your pay check on every payday after May 1. In California alone, this extra income will amount to many millions of dollars a year.

To you as a taxpayer this may be a welcome relief, but it is money most of you have been getting along without. It may be quickly absorbed in your regular daily expenses—or it may be saved.

Route those tax reduction dollars to a savings account—in any bank—and you'll accumulate a fund with which you can do something worthwhile. Whether your goal be the purchase of United States savings bonds, a fund for a particular purpose, or just the satisfying sense of security that comes from having money in the bank—the time to start your savings account is now. Save those first extra dollars . . . and they'll add up fast!

Here's what you can save!

(Example based on typical family: husband, wife, two children)

If you earn (per week)	Old Tax	New Tax	Difference per week	You can save in one year
$50.00	1.20	0	1.20	62.40
60.00	2.90	1.20	1.70	88.40

Just Wonderin'

I Wonder why we worry so,
Why do we harbor fear
And let the dread of the unknown
Torment us through the year?
The sky above is still intact,
The earth is fairly stable,
The things which undermine our poise
May be, not truth but fable.

Several years ago I wrote a poem titled, "The Worrying Worm." I'm thinking of that poem right now; the poor worm was afraid of everything; he feared every living thing that he considered wormnivorous and many things besides.

He feared the birds in the trees above,
Carnivorous robin and trim white dove.

He feared the garden toad, the hen and her chicks, he loathed all fishermen, then there were the garden tools, rake, spade and hoe. Brooms he feared but his greatest menaces were human feet.

Whether heavy and halting or light and fleet,
Whether big and clumsy or tiny or trim,
Feet were a source of great worry to him.

At length our worrying worm became a butterfly and then he worried about the same birds, rain clouds and thoughtless young ladies with butterfly nets.

After a long life of worry-marred delights, he sat upon the petals of a rose and considered the fact that not a single thing about which he had worried, had ever happened to him.

We humans are just like that and now it really seems that our leaders are trying to frighten us. Indeed, there is much war mongering, though no one calls it that now; we simply listen, believe and are afraid.

If there is really a great calamity waiting for us just around the corner, those who have espied it, should tell us in plain, understandable terms; if they refrain from doing this and continue to hint and ask for more money, we'll continue to see things.

A few nights ago a flock of wild geese was mistaken for a group of flying saucers and whenever a sperm whale with red fins and a sickle and hammer embossed upon its larboard side approaches our shores, some one reports Russian subs and we long quite ardently for cyclone cellars in which to hide and be safe.

Clear thinking, right conclusions and true understanding are hampered by fear. If some Solomon would arise and tell us the facts about conditions, national and domestic, he would be doing a real service to all concerned.

Why worry about Joe Stalin until we have clipped the wings of our own dictator, John Lewis. When one man has the power to do what the bushy-browed one has done, and that with seeming impunity,, it is time to worry about our own country and wonder if our democracy is out of joint.

Oh Lewis, big John Lewis
To whom we humans pray,
Please let us have the coal to keep
Our fires alive this day.
Please let us use our choo choo cars,
And eat our meed of meat,
If you'd remove your heavy hand
Life might again be sweet.
AMEN

ELIMINATES THE NOISE

The motorist who is annoyed by whistles and squeaks and other extraneous noises should take it as his cue to get busy with the oil can. It really is amazing the amount of silence contained in a few ounces of thin lubricating oil. Applied to parts that move when they are supposed not to do so, oil will work wonders. It will silence where tigntening of bolts fails.

Young America was established by R. A. Davidge in 1853, who sold it the following year to Niles Searles, W. P. Ewar and J. H. Bordman, three distinguished citizens of Nevada County, who renamed it the NEVADA DEMOCRAT. Mr. Searles was the first editor. H. P. D.

FOUR DAY COUNTY FAIR THIS YEAR

GRASS VALLEY: The Nevada County Fair this August will be extended to four days, instead of the usual three. This announcement was made by the manager, Loyle Freeman .

Premium listings have been submitted for approval. On their return the premium book will be prepared. Due to the temporary character of the buildings, no display of gold specimens will be made this year. Prizes for various farm products, culinary arts, and live stock will number 1945.

Due to the fact that sneak thieves and trespassers have been active at the fairgrounds in Watt Park, Manager Freeman stated a watchman and care taker has been employed.

DRINKING AND DRIVING

"Drinking when planning to drive is a serious violation of both common sense and common decency," declares Bert Stewart, Jr.. "Alcohol when taken into the system even in small quantities definitely impairs vision, judgment, muscular efficiency, and gives the driver a false confidence that lures him into taking those long chances that so often lead to serious accidents."

CHAMBER OK'S DAVIS IDEAS ON FOURTH

NEVADA CITY: The meeting of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce heard several letters of inquiry regarding the Centennial and the Fourth of July, which this year will be staged in Nevada City. The celebration alternates between Grass Valley and this city.

H. P. Davis suggested that his map of the city, be enlarged as a guide for tourists coming to Nevada City during the Centennial years. This could be given out at a booth specially equipped to answer questions regarding historical landmarks. The suggestions were adopted.

Mrs. Doris Foley, president of the Nevada Historical Society, asked for volunteer help on Saturdays and Sundays in maintaining the museum in the old fire house on Main Street.

George Hansen and Ed Hewston were appointed a committee to give the chamber the cost figures on the Davis map and information booth.

Al Irby, fourth of July chairman, stated that Bert Foreman has been named to take charge of the parade.

and we get up all sorts of fancy dishes, that is, she does, and Pard and I do the rough work. She says cooking is an art in her country, and I guess it is, for she has about spoiled us and it would be a tough proposition to have to go back to our old grub. We have got down to coffee and bread for breakfast and neither one of us can tackle fried pork and beans any more. It doesn't make much difference, as we do not get up until nine o'clock. Pard rolls out at daylight to fire rocks at the jackass, who insists on giving us an early concert every morning. We let Jack out to keep him company, and that seems to soothe his troubled spirit. It is a strange thing the attachment between the two animals. It's worthwhile being awakened to know that we have not got to crawl out, get breakfast and then tackle a hard day's work in the mud and water. Marie gets back to the hotel regularly before dark and won't let me stay later than ten o'clock. "It is for what ze people would say, my Alfred," and I strike out for the cabin. Pard is deep in his books, but he drops them and we chat and plan until midnight. We both wish the days would go by faster. The "old boy" is longing to see his wife and looking eagerly forward to the meeting.

"The value of the trained man as compared to the untrained man is as undeniable in the military field as in the field of medicine, law, science or industry. This need of trained manpower, if the country is to have a strong defense establishment, was a manifest to Washington, Jefferson and Jackson in former times as to Pershing, Marshall and Eisenhower in our own times."

We are the only great power in the world today that does not have conscription. Every country in the world with the exception of the United States and certain English-speaking British dominions have either compulsory training or compulsory service. We are the richest nation in the world. We have the most coveted treasures. We have the most to protect. We have the means to do it. It seems much more rational to take an attitude of virility and courage. The problem is not beyond our means. It would seem better to expend a billion dollars a year for security rather than 10 billion per year to pay for the aftermath of the situation into which our past stupidity has hurled us."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Homer Does Some "Back-Seat Sewing!"

Homer Bentley's missus was working on her new sewing machine, when Homer comes in, draws up a chair, and starts talking: "Don't you think you're running too fast?" he says. "Slow down! Watch out! Be careful!"

When the missus finally turns with murder in her eyes, Homer says goodnaturedly: "I thought you might like a little help, dear—like you help me drive the car."

The missus can't help but burst out laughing—and they settle what might have been a quarrel over a friendly glass of beer. The missus agrees to give up back-seat driving and nagging Homer about ashes on the rug. Homer agrees to quit criticizing Sarah's taste for flowery hats and parsley salad.

From where I sit, the key to getting on together is meeting every issue half way—and overlooking any petty differences in tastes—whether these tastes apply to beer or flowery-looking hats!

Veterans' News

The new chief medical director of the Veterans Administration, Dr. Paul B. Magnuson, is a nationally known orthopedic surgeon, former professor of surgery and chairman of the Department of Bone and Joint Surgery at Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago.

Dr. Magnuson has been closely associated with the reorganization of VA medical care and his appointment to succeed Dr. Paul R. Hawley, who resigned Jan 1, assures uninterrupted continuation of the VA's new medical program.

Dr. Magnuson joined the VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery when it was created Jan. 3, 1946. He was largely responsible for affiliating more than half of VA's 126 hospitals with Class "A" medical schools throughout the country and in the establishment of VA's residency training program.

Since joining VA Dr. Magnuson has aided in starting a comprehensive research program into many of the little-known ailments and diseases suffered by veterans.

Dr. Magnuson took his premedical training at the University of Minnesota and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Medical School in 1908. He is the author of several books on fractures and served as a civilian consultant to the Surgeon General of the Department of the Army during the war.

Dr. Hawley, who organized the VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery has been appointed a special assistant and advisor to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs and will continue to assist in carrying out the VA medical program.

QUESTION: I was told that my disability, which I claim was due to service, cannot be service-connected because I had it before I entered the service. Am I eligible for compensation?

ANSWER: If VA decides that your ailment was incurred in or aggravated by your service in the armed forces you will be entitled to receive compensation, if it exists to a compensable degree.

QUESTION: I am a veteran of World War I and would like to know if there is any limit for filing a claim for compensation for disability caused by my war service?

ANSWER: There is no time limit set for filing claim for compensation under existing legislation.

Veterans over 40 years of age who purchase farms or homes under the state veterans' plan are no longer required to pay an extra premium for life insurance provided under the plan, according to the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

The life insurance pays off the balance due on the veteran's purchase contract in the event of his death, thus guaranteeing his dependents clear title to the farm or home.

Under the state farm and home purchase plan, veterans receive this protection for 70 cents per month per $1,000 of the unpaid balance of the purchase contract. No increase in the veteran's monthly contract installments is required, however, since the insurance premium may be added to the deferred balance and repaid at the end of the contract period, which usually extends 20 years.

The insurance coverage is underwritten by two California life insurance companies on behalf of the state. The former extra premium for older veterans was eliminated as a result of favorable mortality experience, and now all contract holders pay the same rate, regardless of age.

California veterans may obtain up to $7,500 for purchase of a home or up to $13,500 for purchase of a farm under the state program. Liberal repayment terms include a very low rate of interest, currently three percent, substantial savings on fire insurance through a group coverage contract, and elimination of many fees ordinarily connected with home and farm financing.

By comparison with other cities and by other tests, labor relations in San Francisco are being conducted on a sound and effective basis.

False Earnings

Would a 3,500 per cent increase in wages or salary interest you? If your income sky-rocketed like that, you wouldn't be much worried about the high cost of living, would you? Wait a minute. Are you sure you'd be on easy street? Perhaps you will be surprised to learn that workers in France have had that amount of increase in their money earnings since 1914, and they still lack the necessities of life.

A brick layer in Paris worked 48 hours a week in 1914. He took home 45½ francs, a week, slightly less than one franc per hour. But today he gets 35 francs per hour. In 1914 he could buy four quarts of milk for his franc or a dozen-and-a-half eggs. But today for an hour's wages he can buy less than three quarts of milk and barely 7 eggs—if he can find them. Both items, plentiful in 1914, are now hard to obtain.

Hold Your Own?

This means that there are things more important than increases in wages. The consequences of inflation are such that costs of living manage to keep a step ahead of wage boosts. The lesson is this: the average breadwinner cannot hold his own once the inflation spiral gets going. No matter how often wages are increased, he gets farther and farther behind.

Costs always outrun increased earnings — unless someone stops the spiral. To stop a runaway team, you have to do more than holler "Whoa!" You have to pull back on the reins, set your heels in the dirt, and maybe make a little sacrifice in terms of direction and effort. Inflation is like that. Some of us fail to see the brink of the precipice ahead. We take our increases and discount the dire results.

$10,000 Trifle

When I left China in 1936, a comfortable home could have been purchased there for 10,000 Chinese dollars. Today you'd be lucky to buy a loaf of bread for $10,000. Matter of fact, a Chinese friend of mine recently enclosed a $10,000 note to me in a letter. The note was not a gift, nor a repayment on a loan, nor a sum for investment. It was merely a souvenir, virtually worthless.

Pull Together!

Oh, this can't happen to America! Anyone who utters that statement is confused, chances are. Actually it has already been happening to America. The spiral of inflation has cut down buying power, cheapened our money. Today, $2 are worth what $1 was worth only a few years ago. This means that if you have insurance or a bank account, the effect of inflation has reduced these by one-half. Loss to savings in this way is very real.

In most lines of industry and in agriculture, our vast production is doing a fine job of meeting unprecedented demand. We must continue to produce, cut costs, and save more. We must do the right things about these problems. If each of us will act individually and collectively as we know best, the inflation bogey is dead. Remember that the answer is not always to be found in wage boosts. Rather, we shall be good citizens if we pull together to bring the cost of living down.

It sn't a dsgrace to have rats —It's a disgrace to keep them.

Apparently rats have little respect for the size of other animals. One European zoo had to kill three elephants when rat-bite wounds became infected.

AMADOR MAN RUNS FOR ASSEMBLY

JACKSON: Melvin L. Pierovich, Attorney and Public Accountant of Jackson, Amador County, and brother of the late Judge A. L. Pierovich, who for many years represented the Ninth Senatorial District in the State Legislature, has announced his candidacy as Member of the Assembly from the 6th Assembly District. This District, the largest geographically in the state, is comprised of the counties of Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, El Dorado, Inyo, Mariposa, Mono, Placer and Tuolumne. Mr. Pierovich is a registered Democrat and one of the two Democrats in the race; altogether seven candidates have filed for the position, five of them Republicans.

Mr. Pierovich is 38 years of age, married, and the father of one child. He became a member of the Bar in 1935 and for several years prior to World War II was employed as Assistant Tax Counsel in the Office of the Franchise Tax Commissioner. During the war, in which he served five years, he saw active duty in both the Pacific and European Theatres ,in the former as an infantryman with the 27th and 40th Divisions and the latter as a military Government Officer in France and Germany.

"The surest way to invite a Third World War for this nation is to be unready to fight one. I hold that our alertness to the problems of national security and our determination to keep an effective fighting machine are not in opposition to the hopes for the creation and effective working of the United Nations. To the contrary, our military readiness is essential to any hope for the success of the United States."
